Give her a hand 'cos she gave a good show
Her makeup was right for the occasion
She did what she had to do, she said what she had to say
She played her part to perfection

She's so empty inside, lies to herself and the public
She's so empty inside, lies to herself and the public
Acclaims not the same such a shame

The star of the show she was true to herself
And everything went as reported
Rumors about herself came along
That's when it all got distorted

She's so empty inside, lies to herself and the public
She's so empty inside, lies to herself and the public
Acclaims not the same such a shame

What a good show that she gave
Happy to go on the stage
Was she to know it could change
Can she go on feeling strange

She's so empty inside, lies to herself and the public
She's so empty inside, lies to herself and the public
Acclaims not the same such a shame

Public acclaims not the same
Public acclaims not the same
Public acclaims not the same
