I don't have room,
I don't have time,
I don't have one small thing that I call mine.

I don't have money,
I don't have love,
If I don't have everything,
Nothing is enough.

I'm always running,
But I'm still behind,
I'm always looking for somewhere,
I'll never find.

I don't make wishes,
I don't think it's smart,
I don't have the kind of time to wait for life to start.

And you tell me everything's gonna be alright,
I ask you where they good times went,
And you tell me everything's gonna work out fine,
I say the money's all been spent,
And you tell me everything doesn't mean a thing,
If you and me are not you and me,
You and me,
You and me, forever.

And you tell me everything's gonna be alright,
I ask you where the good times went,
And you tell me everything's gonna work out fine,
I say the money's all been spent,
And you tell me everything doesn't mean a thing,
If you and me are not you and me,
You and me,
You and me,
You and me, forever
