Most the time I don't ever hurt about you I do fine without you Most the time I don't long to have you with me your memory doesn't get me
The only time that you still break my heart
Is when I'm in somebody else's arms

Only when I love
Do I think about us and what we lost we could have had together
Only when I hold someone new, who could never be you
I realize what's gone forever

No one else has ever touched me like you touched me Or loved me like you loved me
When I forget I'm reminded when I try to find another like you I only ache for the way we felt when I'm reaching out to someone else

Only when I love
Do I think about us and what we lost and could have had together
Only when I hold someone new, who could never be
you
I realize what's gone forever

Only when I love
had together
Only when I hold someone new, who could never be
you
I realize what's gone forever, I realize what's gone forever

Only when I love, I think about us
Only when I love, I think about us
