I know that you're feeling hurt
Would it make it easier if I told you that
I didn't mean to hold you back?
I just couldn't let you leave this house
In the smallest hour of the night

How does it feel on the inside?
How does it feel to know you're alone?
How does it look from the outside
When you're leaving home?

Now take your time
Work things out
Don't give yourself easily
To everyone that you meet

How does it feel on the inside?
How does it feel to know you're alone?
How does it look from the outside
When you're leaving home?
You're leaving home

One day you're gonna turn around and see
I'm the only one that will always be
Everywhere you go when you're all alone
Just turn around and find your way home

Because you're still young
And life is hard
Some things are not for your eyes
And nothing is truly lost

How does it feel on the inside?
How does it feel to know you're alone?
How does it look from the outside
When you're leaving home?
Leaving home

How does it feel on the inside?
How does it feel to know you're alone?
How does it look from the outside
When you're leaving home?
