Oh, the sky so blue above while you remain
I bet every place you go it's just the same
It's gonna turn to black
If you don't come back again soon

I'm gonna count the nights and days
I can't wait to see you
Cause you light me up just like a flame
And I won't go out again

The sun burnt down on your home town I know
And it's shining down on you where ever you go
Oh, but it rain both night and day for way too long Yeah, you came and stayed, the same day you were gone
And you light me up just like a flame and I won't go out again

The sky so blue above while you remain
I'll bet every place you go it's just the same
It's gonna turn to black
If you don't come back again soon

I'm gonna count the nights and days
I can't wait to see you
Cause you light me up just like a flame
And I won't go out again

No, I won't go out again
No, I won't go out again
No, I won't go out again
