Running past the burning cars
Everyone is crazy
Crying of a new born child
Whose mother has been crushed
Suffocating clouds of smoke
Over smoldering remains
Blackening the blood red sky
Looking like a wild new land
We don't abide the law
No more, abide the law
We don't
They could see it in the news
A giant is approaching
People can't believe it's real
Judgement day is here
You can almost smell the fear
Repressing shame and reason
Violence is breaking out
Order is destroyed

We don't abide the law
No more, abide the law
We don't abide the law
Glass is cracking sirens wail
Defending the senses
Someone grabs a riot-gun
Noone hears the shot
If it's war
Or not
Human nature dark side
Revealed at last
We don't abide the law
No more, abide the law
We don't abide the law
No more, abide the law
