(Buddy Jewell with Miranda Lambert)
(Merle Haggard/Bonnie Owens)

Miranda: Today I started loving you again
I'm right back where I've really always been

Buddy: I got over you just long enough to let my heartache mend
Then today, I started loving you again

Miranda: What a fool I was to think I could get by With only these few millions tears I cry

Buddy: I should have known the worst was yet to come
And that crying time for me had just begun

Both: Cause today I started loving you again
I'm right back where I've really always been
I got over you just long enough to let my heartache
mend
Then today I started loving you again

Both: Well today I started loving you again
I'm right back where I've really always been
I got over you just long enough to let my heartache
Then today I started loving you again
Then today I started loving you again
