Here we are again

The same old argument
We've had so many times

Things never work out right one step foward

You wont admit your false to keep your pride in tact.
Theres always two steps back

Oi oi oi. bring me down

Here we are again

Patience is wearing thin you wont admit your wrong
You just keep holding on

One step foward theres always two steps back

You wont admit your false to keep your pride intact

I wish it didnt have to be this way

I wish it didnt have to be this wayyyy.
I've tried so hard to make things right

But nothings really changed

I wish it didnt have to be this way.

What keeps me holding oooooon.
This song is only 5 seconds long
