Go on and tear this all apart
Make sure to finish what you start
Scratch the surface 'til it bleeds
Then repeat

Wear your tourniquet so thin
That you will surely bleed again
Tell me, what is it you've gained?
Nothing

Why can't you just move on?
And forget about the things
That cannot be undone

You can stop blaming yourself
But you cannot stop the world
You cannot stop the world, world
[Incomprehensible]

Go on and throw your life away
And don't admit that you feel pain
Pretend everything's okay, is it worth it?

Don't try to take this by yourself
There's nothing wrong in needing help
The emptiness you feel inside
Heals with time

Why can't you just move on?
And forget about the things
That really don't belong

You can stop blaming yourself
'Cause you cannot stop the world
You cannot stop the world, world
You cannot stop the world

It's not your fault that things went wrong
Now, the only thing that you can do is move on
And the pain you feel will soon fade away

Why can't you just move on?

And forget about the things
That cannot be undone

You can stop blaming yourself
But you cannot stop the world
You cannot stop the world , world
You cannot stop the world

It's not your fault that things went wrong
Now, the only thing that you can do is move on
And the pain you feel will soon fade away
