"Cannot Stop the World"

Go on and tear this all apart
Make sure to finish what you start
Scratch the surface until it bleeds, then repeat
Wear your tourniquet so thin that you will surely bleed again
Tell me, what is it you've gained? Nothing

[Chorus]

Why can't you just move on?
And forget about the things that cannot be undone
You can stop blaming yourself
But you cannot stop the world (You cannot stop the world-world)

Go on and throw your life away and don't admit that you feel pain
Pretend everything is okay...is it worth it?
Don't try to take this by yourself
There's nothing wrong with needing help
The emptiness you feel inside heals with time

[Chorus]

Why can't you just move on?
And forget about the things that really don't belong
You can stop blaming yourself
'Cause you cannot stop the world (You cannot stop the world-world)

It's not your fault that things went wrong
Now the only thing that you can do is move on.
And the pain you feel will soon fade away.

[Chorus]

Why can't you just move on?
And forget about the things that really don't belong
You can stop blaming yourself
'Cause you cannot stop the world (You cannot stop the world-world)

It's not your fault that things went wrong
Now the only thing that you can do is move on.
And the pain you feel will soon fade away.
