A little more, a little more of your precious touch I needed so
A little taste of your lips when you touch and go to show me you're mine
I need a little more, a little more of those "I Love You's" I used to hear
A little more, a little more
To show me you still care, make me aware

Don't make me thirst all through the day (all through the day)
For sweet things you used to say Don't wait until the lights are low To say the words I love you so

I need a little more, a little more
of those all-night talks that meant so much
A little more, a little more
of those Sunday walks hand in hand, side by side Ohh, ohhh, call me up through the day Whenever you're away just like you used to

[Interlude]

(I need) Ohh, a little more, a little more
of those all-night talks that meant so much
A little more, a little more
of those Sunday walks hand in hand, side by side Ohhhhh, call me up through the day
Whenever you're away just like you used to

I need a little more, a little more of your precious time I needed so
A little more, a little more of the things we used to do when love was new (I need) a little more, a little more
of your precious touch I needed so
A little taste of your lips....
