Hey baby baby let's drive all night.
We'll get a cooler of beer make us feel alright.
Top down and you're holding me tight.
Let's drive like hell on a saturday night.
The radio station is playing our favorite song.
Hold on to this moment you know it'll soon all be gone.

Hey baby baby I know a place where no one will see us I swear.
We can dance all night long and let the wind blow through Your hair. Go down to the old rope swing and take off all our clothes.
And dance around in the heat of the night, make it up as we go.

And I bet you're daddy doesn't know where you are.
You'll probably get away with this but I'll surely bear the scar.
