You've got my heart
Tied to my sleeve
It's all blue and black
Don't think it's ever gonna bleed
Again since you ran
Off with my friend
Shot in the back
Don't think I'm good with that

But you've got a friend
Who's been checking me out
She's found a way
To turn this all around

Hey, do you like the way it feels
When they're laughing as you walk by
And are the tears for real
This time it's not my turn to hear you cry
It's not my turn to hear you cry

Here all along
Why couldn't I see
Here was the girl
That you wanted to be
Now you're alone
The old hit and run
When you did it to me
Your turn had to come

Hey, do you like the way it feels
When they're laughing as you walk by
And are the tears for real
This time it's not my turn to hear you cry
It's not my turn to hear you cry
