You can pretend like you don't feel a thing
But I know better than to believe
Everybody knows
Seen you with a new crowd
You're acting so proud

Sorry leaves a bitter taste
That you can't spit out
Where's your new friends now

The smallest stones wipe the smile from your face
It swallowed your heart inside and now it's cold
Every day
Anyway everybody knows
Because you were talking so loud
But your head's down now

Sorry leaves a bitter taste
That you can't spit out
Where's your new friends now
Someday you're gonna turn to me
But I won't be around
Where's your new friends now
Did they let you down

Just so you know
Not everybody wants to be somebody
With a part in your show
Just let it go

Sorry leaves a bitter taste
That you can't spit out
Where's your new friends now
Someday you're gonna turn to me
But I won't be around
Where's your new friends now
Did they let you down
