(R. Dunbar/E. Wayne)

Tell me (When will it end?)
When will it end? (Tell me)
Despite of troubles (When will it end?)
When will it all end? (Tell me)

Happiness for me has been an illusion
My whole life has been one mass confusion
People of the world fighting to survive
Meanwhile I'll fight to keep my mind alive

Tell me (When will it end?)
When will it end? (Tell me)
This disappointment (When will it end?)
When will it all end? (Tell me)

My life has torn between the rights and wrongs
And the stress and strain of carry on
I spend my life keeping my mind free
From the world of insanity
I look to you, my love, for piece of mind
You let me down every time
People of the world fighting to survive
Meanwhile I'll fight to keep my mind alive

Tell me (When will it end?)
When will it end? (Tell me)
These passing burdens (When will it end?)
When will it all end? (Tell me)

Stumbling though the distance without a lie
Searching for the answer all my life
I'm trapped in a world of man-made schemes
Lost in a life of fallen dreams
Searching for the answer I'll never find
Stumbling off the edge of my mind

When will it end?
[echoes: End... end... end... end... end... end... end...
end... end...]
