

Honor Bright "Normal"

Visit "Normal" on MotoLyrics.com

We took things as far as they needed to go. I'm not asking for any favors just know that I did my best even if it wasn't good enough. Nothing's ever good enough for you. So stand back and watch this fall apart. Everything's falling down. I'm taking deep breaths to slow the pace of my heart. Its beating fast to let me know that I'm still alive. So I didn't die without you and knowing that you're not here with me makes everything feel alright. So stand back and watch this fall apart. Everything's falling down. What did we really learn this time? Go running back to everything you thought of me before you saw me fall. I'm better off without you I think you knew this from the start. I think you knew this. What did we really learn this time? Go running back to everything you thought of me before you saw me fall. I'm better of without you I think you knew this from the start. I think you knew thisÂ...

Visit Honor Bright page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.