Do you remember when we said, we said
We would never let it get this far, but we did, we did.

I'm not going to wait around for you to figure out what a mistake you're making Just let me down, just let me down.
I've been through this before but somehow my hearts still breaking So this is how, so this is how
'I love you' becomes 'goodbye'
So this is how

You told me once I asked you twice
how your words would become mine
I never wanted to miss you

Now we're talking again and it feels so distant Like you're just holding back while I'm just holding on to every little thing that ever made sense.
What are you doing? What are you doing to me?

So this is how
You told me once I asked you twice
how your words would become mine
I never wanted to miss you,
I followed all your advice as your heart connects to mine

I know I'm not supposed to miss you
Is it okay if I still love you?
I still love you.

Now we know we're up against, what we're up against You've heard it all but I'm not getting through.
I'm never getting through to you, now your gone and I'm broken

Do you remember when we said, we said
We would never let it get this far, but we did, we did
Do you remember when this meant, this meant everything not just to me but to everyone Now your gone and I'm broken

(You've heard it all but I'm not getting through I'm never getting through to you)

You told me once I asked you twice
how your words would become mine.
I never wanted to miss you.
I followed all of your advice as your connects to mine
I know I'm not supposed to miss you.
