So are we just making it up as we go along? Just making up for lost time. This was so much easier when it was just me and you. In this kiss in this night we found escape. It's alright, it's ok. Just sit a little closer now. I've been waiting for this. Don't let me down. Darling no, don't let me break this. Darling no, someday I'll come back to you. I'm still waiting for you tonight. Having you this close just makes it harder to let go. But in the end you know I'm leaving. So save your goodbyes for the next time. Brush my lips with your mind as you walk by. It's the little things that mean so much more. Brush my lips with your mind one last time. It's a memory to live on as we die. Don't let me down. Darling no, don't let me break this. Darling no, someday I'll come back to you. I'm still waiting for you tonight. Waiting, waiting for you... Each footstep promises distance, I'm still waiting for you. Oh darling, I'm still waiting for you tonight
