I make my way across the concrete playground
Head on over to the East side of town
Unprepared, I was scared
I didn't know what to say
I feel that I will fall in love with you
It's happening
Steady now, hold onto yourself
Five more flights to find you
The elevator opens the door, screaming silently

There you were standing in the doorway
There you were come closer
Come on closer

I'm holding onto the memory I created of you in my mind
Carefully for sometimes it plays tricks on me
Suddenly I refused to breath
Subconsciously you take me over
We don't even move
I'm sleeping, I'm dreaming
I'm waking up screaming

There you were standing in the doorway
There you were come closer
Come on closer
Let me see you tonight

Tonight, we will be together
Tonight, make this last forever
Tonight, come on a little closer
So I can see you better

There you were standing in the doorway
There you were come closer
Come on closer
Let me see you tonight

Please come closer to me
So I can see you better
So I can see you better
