I go to the beach to catch a little sun
You see me before I get a chance to run
You ask me

Dave, where have you been?
How come I only get your phone machine?
The answer should be obvious to anyone

I told you more times than I care to recall
I'd get more reaction talking to a wall
It's no crime to be dumb

Just don't parade it for everyone
And act like you're such a goddamn know it at
You know nothing at all

Your friends call you shit for brains
You're full of shit, that might explain
But I think it's even less your head contains

I go to the beach to catch a little sun
You see me before I get a chance to run
I only feel contempt for you
You and your room temperature I.Q.
Well, look at you, you're just a big black hole of fun

You need a brainscan to convince me you're not dead
You need a brainscan and hope they learn to transplant
a head
Brainscan, brainscan

I don't know how, how you survive
I don't know how, how you survive
I don't know how you, you're alive
