Going nowhere fast
Everywhere at once
No one is king
And there is no god
So if life is a test then I've failed you all
Put the steel to my head
And watch me fall-fall
I scream from inside
Lock myself out
I look to the past
Where's the innocence lost
Too proud to be heard as my heart turns to stone
When you turned your back is when I lost it all-all
Scream from inside
Just outta reach
I look for your help
You give me nothing
No words to express in the hostile times
Killed these dreams
When I believed your lies-lies
Going nowhere fast
Everywhere at once
No one is king and there is no god
So if life is a test then I've failed you all
Put the steel to my head and watch me fall
I scream from inside
Lock myself out
I look to the past
Where's the innocence lost?
Too proud to be heard as my heart turns to stone
When you turned your back is when I lost it all-all
