Sometimes life is so unclear it's hard to choose the right path confusion is taking hold of you and you're looking for a light in the dark don't let indecision rule your life there is always something you can do

time moves so fast
within the blink of an eye

the next moment is gone don't sit back and wait just don't sit and wait learn to appreciate the gift of life and make the most out of each day
