

Hooters

"South Ferry Road"

Visit "South Ferry Road" on MotoLyrics.com

The night we stole the moon, a pirate's paradise
The light along the ocean was in your eyes
It ended all too soon, it started suddenly
The bridge was almost open when we arrived

And when I thought I was lost you carried me across
Laughin' through the fallout zone
You touched me in a way I'd never known
And in the salt-scented air I followed you there
You taught me everything I know
I'm goin' down again South Ferry Road

We found a place to land, a space-age hideaway
Safe inside the shelter, just you and I
The night we stole the moon, you gave it back to me
The light along the ocean was out goodbye

And when I thought I was lost you carried me across
Laughin' through the fallout zone
You touched me in a way I'd never known
And in the salt-scented air I followed you there
You taught me everything I know
I'm goin' down again South Ferry Road

Oh, but even still, now and then, I remember you when Laughin' all the way back home
You touched me in a way I'd never known
And all the others remain just faces in a game
Remind me of a place I know
I'm goin' down again South Ferry Road

When I feel I got lost you carried me across
Back to everything I know
I'm goin' down again South Ferry Road

Visit Hooters page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.