You always ask for flowers and candy, baby
Never knowing I was your chocolate rose
You always tell me you like what I'm wearing
But you think I look better here without any clothes

Get out of my head
Show me your heart
Get out of my head
Show me your heart

You play a game of attack and surrender
Always leaving me halfway there
Well, I've got something that you should remember
Until you draw blood, baby, nobody cares

Get out of my head
Show me your heart
Get out of my head
Show me your heart

Sometimes I'd swear you were from Venus, darling, oh
If I didn't already know your type
You'd rather tell me you're an angel, darling then
Then show me by floating gracefully by

Get out of my head
Show me your heart
Get out of my head, oh
And show me your heart

Get out, get out, get out of my head
Yeah and show me your heart
Show me your, oh
Get out of my head
And show me your heart
