My heart was up for grabs
You were the one with the hands
Liking me more than a friend
Leaving me dizzy and then

Then you started to treat me like
Someone you didn't like
Until you wanted to be with me
Then you started to hit me up
With something I thought was love
But all you wanted from me
Was one thing

I stayed longer than I should
Sometimes love can be misunderstood
'Cause I thought that you cared more for me
But I was just blind ut now I see

Then you started to treat me like
Someone you didn't like
Until you wanted to be with me
Then you started to hit me up
With something I thought was love
But all you wanted from me
Was one thing

No less no more
I guess you got what you came here for
To satisfy your urge
Well if that's all I'm worth
Then I can't let you stay
I'd have to be less than me

My heart was up for grabs
And you were the one with the hands

And you started to treat me like
Someone you didn't like
Until you wanted to be with me
Then you started to hit me up
With something I thought was love

But all you wanted from me
Was one thing

One thing yeah one thing
And you started to treat me like
Someone you didn't like
But all you wanted from me was one thing
