

Hope Of The States "Don't Go To Pieces"

Are you tired and are pushed to the side?
Are you broken whenever you try?
Just get up again and let everyone know
You're gonna try your best, and you'll never let go
Don't you go to pieces now
I need you more than I ever did
Don't you go to pieces now
I need you all the time

Are you angry when you look at the world
So desperate it's making you ill
Don't be alone or frightened by all that you see
There's a million good hearts like you and like me

Don't you go to pieces now
I need you more than I ever did
Don't you go to pieces now
I need you all the time
Don't you go to pieces now
I need you all the time

Don't you go to pieces now
I need you all the time

It's alright to be alone sometimes
But please come back tomorrow
I need you all the time
It's alright to be alone sometimes
But please come back tomorrow
I need you all the time
The people you leave behind
Will worry all the time
Why don't you realize
And why won't you try?
