I take such small steps
Towards the light that shines down on the good
Though I know I am lost I know you'd
Save me if you thought you could
Let me give up one more time
And break my heart all over again
Broken I will soldier on
Until this ruined life is done

I sing this song for everyone
Born in a storm
The drunk and sick are friends of mine forever more

I take such small steps
Towards the light that shines down on the good
Though I know I am lost I know you'd
Save me if you thought you could
Let me give up one more time
And break my heart all over again
Broken I will soldier on
Until this ruined life is done

I sing this song for everyone
Born in a storm
The fucked and dumb are friends of mine forever more

I sing this song for everyone
Born in a storm
The drunk and sick are friends of mine forever more
