I've had enough of loyalty oaths and religious revivals
The gamblers debt, security checks
And the fight for survival
I'm getting out of this town
It's making me nervous
If this is the world
Where do we go to start again?

All of our hearts are beating
At a perfect time tonight
The sound is of thunder
And you people should wonder
How you're ever gonna shut up shop forever

All of our hearts are beating
At a perfect time tonight
You didn't think we could
You didn't think we would
But we did

I am not scared
I am prepared for what is coming
I want it all
I sent out a call
And now it's beginning
I'm out of time, I'm crossing the line
Whatever happens

All of our hearts are beating
At a perfect time tonight
The sound is of thunder
And you people should wonder
How you're ever gonna shut up shop forever

All of our hearts are beating
At a perfect time tonight
You didn't think we could
You didn't think we would
But we did
