In the night, in this lonely night
I can't believe you left me here to cry alone
And I might oh and I might be here with you
I think I've lost my way inside this room
I never blue

In all the beautiful lies, you told to me
You did it all with your lies oh can't you see
And all the health and the pain, you've gave to me
In through your beautiful lies, you could not see

When you back oh you'll give me a love attack eh In this day, I think I see you cry through your mask
And you say, I'll give life this lonely day oh If you want, I won't believe a word
You know I heard

In all the beautiful lies, you told to me
You did it all with your lies oh can't you see
And all the health and the pain, you've gave to me
In through your beautiful lies, you could not see

And I ask oh what's behind that little mask
In time to come, I'll hold the sound to feel the same
In the night oh in this endless lonely night
And all your day, you hold the sound and you're alone
I tell the door oh

In all the beautiful lies, you told to me
You did it all with your lies oh can't you see
And all the health and the pain, you've gave to me
In through your beautiful lies, you could not see
