It's when I seem to lose the only thing I care
I realized I saw It's light in the night
I was beside a sparkling source of light
But sometime I still see my dead behind her smile

I'll be better with no remorse
Can I stop believing you'll be there?

Run away
Things are getting worse
So run away before I start to burn

Lies, I used to understand them
All this time
You never comprehended

How do you feel?
I don't believe its real
It seems to be the sweetest thing when the bitter ends
I'll go crazy for no reason
'Cause I can't stop that voice inside my head

Anyway your hands are getting cold
So runaway before I start to burn

Lies, I used to understand them
All this time
You've never comprehended
I know why it was so hard to see me
I wonder if by now I can trust my eyes

So Should I stay?
Should I tremble and remain?
Or run away leaving nothin more to say?

Lies, I used to understand them
All this time
You've never comprehended
and I know why it was so hard to see me
I wonder if by now I can trust my eyes
