Caught force, looked over
Courting gravity, we're older
We all found out we're weightless
And leaden with potential

Water filters, the screams of dead sailors
Lift off a bridge, swim left of Sacramento
The last thing we see
Is tail lights with strings

And time is spinning out a way
One photograph back, a tunnel is shrinking
No flash, no love, nothing involved
At the start of it all

Don't even try
To maximize these plans
I steal, I catch this wind
After all of my lies

Don't you dare fall for
How I could be depends
On the cold you bring
Don't bend down to the world
Don't even try to

The image you cast over me
Is just a subterfuge
I can be a ghost or the hero that says
My darling, why don't you save yourself?

If we die, we'll leave some behind
To lust for what seems like
The performance of a life
We've incriminated hesitation

In bending
(Been)
Down to the world
Lived it all
The earth will follow through

Like we give love
For a chance to make capital
They said bend down to the world
If we could see more than we believe
Then we believe
The earth would swallow you
