Caught force looked over courting gravity we're older we all found out we're weightless and leaden with potential water filters the screams of dead sailors lift off a bridge
the last thing we see is tail lights with strings and time is spinning out a way one photograph back a tunnel is shrinking no flash no love nothing involved at the start of it all

don't even try to maximize these plans i steal
i catch this wind
after all of my lies don't you dare fall for how i could be depends on the cold you bring don't bend down to the world don't even try to the image you cast over me is just a subterfuge i can be a ghost ot the hero that says...my darling why don't you save yourself if we die

we'll leave some behind to lust for what seems like the performance of a life we've incriminated hesitation in bending (been) down to the world live(d) it all the earth will follow through like we give love

for a chance to make capital they said bend down to the world if we could see more than we believe (...
...) then we believe the earth would swallow you
