Tell em you need it cause it's soothing to know there's no end
can you separate it
I know you want it to feel control

no traffic in these eyes when veins in tantric change it's slow pumping through my legs we'll try to carry on with veins in tantric change and yes we'll try to stomp the days away

what if right now
these heads rolled dead across the table who'd sew theirs back?
i'm slowly thinking of switching your head with my body
and we can start these days the same comfort me on the floor with these bones they're two mouths to feed i am just a ghost

you think i'm rested i am more shot than you know i hear and chase them off the rooftops and the walls it feels like there's something in the walls no traffic in my eyes it takes the pain away
