Can you feel it crawl something has mastered our insides connecting our thoughts with others' body parts in all sorts
there are networks keeping watch over our state of mind

this is how we'll carry on have we been led have we wandered in everything we're moving on to i think we made a great escape it's been said you've inspired in all those things i'm looking on to your greatest day

we prefer to pretend there's no animal inside but there is a sting
we chose to hide
who waits for who?
when nothing tells us we might still be alive we send transmission to bridge the synapse we're put together and organised
