One day the rain will fall on your stupid heads and it will wash away your stupid smiles forever

Zapping through a brave new world from style to style from life to life life's designed by life-designers

And the army of the party-people marches, dances through the streets raving, dancing, following the forces of the programmed beats

One day...

Life could be so easy life could be so sweet swimming, floating

in an endless stream sunbathing in an ever-smiling sun but I can't expell these clouds out of my mind

One day...

Party people keep on dreaming Party people keep on smiling Party people keep on following the forces of a programmed life

Party people keep on dancing Party people keep on raving Party people keep on following

One day...
