when i looked across the ice cold and glassy skipped a stone so many times to break the surface never reached the other side found rounded rocks on the shore line this is my last time to ask you now justify your actions out of time answer to your question wrong this time i watched the water stand still cold and glassy wintertime skipped a stone across the ice just scratched the surface it seemed to reach the other side lost in winter white i find this is your last time so ask me now justify your actions out of time answer to your question wrong this time you thought you found the answer you're wrong this time i'm not who you wish that i would be you're not who i wish that you would be
