For years I've been tryin'
Tryin' so hard to find clues to explain
The reasons for all this chaos in your mind
You know, I've been searchin'
On and on but I still don't understand
What's in your head or what you can feel inside
When Jekyll turns to Hyde

You're such a two-sided enigma
Reeling between extremes
Prone to crazy fits of behavior
The other part of you fears

Personalities at war
On the battlefield of your tortured mind
Blurring your senses in this fight
But tell me

Why can't you pull through
And put an end to this misery?
You're walking a fine line
On the edge of insanity

You try to keep your deeds under control
But as soon as you lose ground
Then you switch to your dark alter ego
And let your demons out

A struggle within yourself
Your worst enemy hides inside your head
Destroying your life day by day
So tell me

Why can't you pull through
And put an end to this misery?
You're walking a fine line
On the edge of insanity - Insanity

Personalities at war
On the battlefield of your tortured mind
Blurring your senses in this fight

But tell me

Why can't you pull through
And put an end to this misery?
You're walking a fine line
On the edge of insanity
When will I pull through
And get out of this misery?
I'm walking a fine line
On the edge of insanity - Insanity - Insanity
