I look into those vast blue eyes
It's hard to breathe but babe, I try
The thought of you leaving, I die
It makes me lose my appetite
I can't even focus throughout my day
Trying to figure out a way
To get you to truly feel the same
Because how this is is not okay

You say that you're on the fence with me
Not sure if you want to jump in and see
You've given up on love
But I'll never give up on you
I want to revive you

Your smile makes my head spin round
I'm shy, so I stare at the ground
Lost inside these thoughts I drown
Me and you, going through life all around
Don't tell me you deny my claim
That something in you feels this way
I heard what you told my friend the other day
It's fine to let love in again, baby it's okay

You say that you're on the fence with me
Not sure if you want to jump in and see
You've given up on love
But I'll never give up on you
I want to revive you

I just want to let you be free
And make you feel happy
That's all I want of you

You say that you're on the fence with me
Not sure if you want to jump in and see
You've given up on love
But I'll never give up on you
I want to revive you

I'm going to revive you..
