(McDonald)

And in these days within you,
And in these nights without you,
Can you feel a little of my despair?
To say it's hard is easy.
I say it's simple, really.
Let us be. I know that we're meant to be.
Hold me now, turn around,
Don't you know we're halfway there?
I'm coming home now I've found
Without you I am going nowhere.
Hold me now, you're a guiding light.
Show me how it'll be alright.
Hold me now, show me how.
You're in my prayers. You haunt me.
The more you say, the more I care for you.
I'm living from day to day.
And when you sigh,
Oh, when you sigh these walls come tumbling down

A little bit, can't you see?
Hold me now, turn around,
Don't you know we're halfway there?
I'm coming home now I've found
Without you I am going nowhere.
Hold me now, you're a guiding light.
Show me how it'll be alright.
Hold me now, show me how.
Hold me now, you're a guiding light.
Show me how it'll be alright.
Hold me now through the darkest night.
Be near me now, it'll be alright.
You're in my prayers,
You're in my prayers,
You haunt me.
Never ever be the same.
