You're watching me, I'm far away
Just a shadow in the sky
Standing on a mountain top
You're weeping and I wonder why
A bird's-eye-view of everything,
But I cannot see your eyes
You call my name, I hear no word
I'm about to jump, so,

Take me to a place I've never seen
And write another story
'Cause this old one is so sad
And now I'm feeling sorry
Cross out the grief
The sorrow in our lives
Cross out the lies
And all the tears we cried

Dreaming of forgotten times
Memories scattered in my brain
Now I am another one,
Or have I always been the same?
I'm mooning over you again
I wanna mend my ways for you
You see me running down that hill
Would you wait for me and,

I'm crossing out the grief
The sorrow in our lives
I'm crossing out the lies
And all the tears we cried
I'm running down that hill
A valley, oh, so green
And your hand in mine
