If peace won't come then let it be here when I'm gone Hold me like a child and sell me like a diamond for ransom

Well, that isn't fair, you get to play the lottery with second chances

So, whether you win today, the rest of us lost every game

Okay, if those are your rules, I'll beat the system
I'm not afraid to play the game and I won't let things remain the same

Chained or captive, I'll be there, split the difference You're no longer here, I'm bound just by the power of you, the rest ad

Well, that isn't fair, you get to play the lottery with
second chances

So, whether you win today, the rest of us lost every

Okay, if those are your rules, I'll beat the system
I'm not afraid to play the game, I'll beat the system
And I won't let things remain the same

The power of the struggle, the push and the pull I was already on top but missed the control Women think it's superior but listen
Was played like a part in a selfish ambition Now the power of the struggle, the push and the pull Is inconvenient and even comfortable
But I'm not staying in this place no more
In this way no more and I'll say no more

How long did you think you could silence me?
Well, that isn't fair, you get to play the lottery with
second chances
So, whether you win today, the rest of us lost every
Okay, if those are your rules

Well, that isn't fair, you get to play the lottery with
second chances
So, whether you win today, the rest of us lost every

Okay, if those are your rules, I'll beat the system

I'm not afraid to play the game, I'll beat the system

And I won't let things remain the same, I'll beat the system

I'm not afraid to play the game, I'll beat the system

And I won't let things remain the same
