I can see it in your face there's someone else you came here looking for shelter, a place to blame yourself your guard is up take it down slowly kill the pain, baby, put it on me how could someone leave you for someone else

I know your heart hurts, but I'm with you for what it's worth love burns, ice cold, the proof inside you forgets control heavy eyes, don't lie (don't lie) I'm the blue and your my sky and I know your heart hurts, but I'm with you for what it's worth your hands start to shake when you say his name you were in it for love but he can't feel that way well I know I can fix you if you let me he broke your heart and that gets me how could anyone leave you for someone else

I'm the blue and your my sky

drink, dance, take this chance no plans, ready get set free be with me tonight and I'll make everything alright

I'm the blue and your my sky
