Into the rain we'll run out under the storm with lightning on it's way into a tree we'll carve our names and there we'll stay forever this town was meant for [believing] so go while they were sleeping
watching waiting thinking but never saying

all our lives
the fire's burning but it's so so so so cold in here
all this time
damn cold
so stay up
we'll play our song
so stay up

these city walls they cage us into the streets with midnight on it's way [?] and these empty [bottles/battles] where we'd hide forever
this restless, reckless slow dance with reckless, restless romance watching, holding, thinking but never knowing

damn cold
so stay up
so stay up

[instrumental]

the fire's burning but it's so so so so so cold in here
so stay up

so stay up
[and know that] all our lives
the fire's burning but it's so so cold
[nothing's] burning in here it's so so so so cold
