and i've made goals that i've never meant to break them.
and (they) go beyond the outer depths.
and stranger things have happened since you've been
here.
it's been so long since i've seen your face, or even
been to this place.
this town was cool for one night.
early july.
childhood friends have all grown up.

and i've lived my life with no regrets... regardless of circumstance or chance. i'd have to take.
and stranger things have happened ince you've been
here.
it's been long since i've seen your face, or even been to this place.
this town was cool for one night. early july.
