I don't want to feel like I've been wasting your time want to be the best you ever knew holding on tight to you

Another sour sunrise
better open my eyes
I got too many things to do
holding on tight to you

It's hard to be strong when your heart is weak and your head is barely sown on when your taste is bitter sweet and you're singing the same old song

got too many things to do

Something doesn't feel right dark clouds in the pink skies another storm is passing through
holding on tight to you

I know how it feels tonight heart's on overdrive never gonna get you to see it right never gonna get to you oh what's the use
