Lie awake, wondering
If things could have been much different Second chance whats become
Of a friendship if you can call this one
Stayed in touched stood behind behind
While I gave you space and you invade mine

Everyone makes mistakes
You let me down for the last time
Truth prevails and there?s nothing you can hide
And I wash my hands of you
Getting on with my life (x3)

wanna call and catch up
But no matter what I know you still suck
Took the drugs from my friends
Whatever were you thinking?
Stayed in touched stood behind
While I gave you space and you invade mine

Well everyone makes mistakes you let me down for the last time
Truth prevails and there?s nothing you can hide
And I wash my hands of you
Getting on with my life

You let me down for the last time
Truth prevails and there?s nothing you can hide
And I wash my hands of you
Getting on with my life (x2)

and the shit remains the same
And there?s no difference in this stupid world we know
And the shit remains the same
And there's no difference
And this stupid world we know

You let me down for the last time
Truth prevails and there?s nothing you can hide
And I wash my hands of you

Getting on with my life

You let me down for the last time
Truth prevails and there's nothing you can hide
And I wash my hands of you
Getting on with my life
