Think about your body
Think about your weight
Think: your constitution
Think: just let me guess your fate
Perhaps it would be best
To do with even less
The contents of your stomach
May later be revealed
How can you compete
With all that you cannot eat
Parts is parts is parts is parts...
And you're still the sucker you were

Think about carbs

Think about your body
Think about your weight
Think: your constitution
Think: just let me guess your fate

You had the sense at least
To seem somewhat obese
Making it worthwhile
Watching you implode
It's just an exercise
To self-cannibalize
Just to kill the static
The static in the room

Think about carbs
