

Hot Tuna

"Great Divide: Revisited"

Visit "Great Divide: Revisited" on MotoLyrics.com

Time goes by my window
Like shadows on the sun
And it often seems to me that life's like Livin' on the run
This time round I'm waiting to cast time at his crest the line is full tomorrow waiting for the rest all those mountains I have crossed are waiting at the door
singing chorus songs that never fade being is a mystery the past cannot replay gone away is times of cloudy rain thunder on the mountain shouts the falling rain to the melting snow of winter as it joins the Earth again the cycle of our spirit as it rises from the fire and fans the flame that leads us around the twisted spire all those mountains I have have crossed on waiting at the door

singing chorus songs that never fade being is a mystery not easy to explain gone away is times of clouds and rain

Time goes by my window
Like shadows on the sun
And it often seems to me that life's like
Livin' on the run
This time round I'm waiting to cast time at the crest

all those mountains I have crossed are
waiting at the door
singing chorus songs that never fade
being is a mystery not easy to replay gone away is times of clouds and rain

