Well vampire women
They've taken the day
Cause all reasonable married men to go astray
You can see them out there
Each and every day
Waiting for some vamp to come their way

She'll ask him for five
He'll give her ten
Say "If that ain't enough mama
You come round again."
Well he'll go stone crazy
He'll go stone wild
Go home and mistreat his wife and his child

Well married man that ain't right
Go home and treat your own wife right
Well if you dress your wife like you do the women in the street
Believe me you'll have a vampire too.

Go running around with every single woman you meet
That will never do
You'll wake up one of these mornings
She'll be feeling bad
Give you the biggest black eye that you ever had Dress your wife like you do the women in the street
Believe me you'll have a vampire too.

(Instrumental break)

Dress your wife like you do the women in the street
Believe me you'll have a vampire too.
Go running around with every single woman you meet
That will never do
You'll wake up one of these mornings
Just a mule in your stall
Vampire women gonna be the cause of it all
Dress your wife like you do the women in the street
Believe me you'll have a vampire tooo I mean
You'll have a vampire too.
