prepare yourself for the moments of the breakdowns of the questions this is what keeps us going down so don't let it push us inside this is what i despise is that treason since my days i've learned some certain ways to keep away from certain ways it's what i've learned it's what i've made sometimes i am put down but i'm sure to stand up like a champion like a soldier with strong will sure i think like anyone about what is about to come but what is the point in dwelling when we all could be sharing this is what i've learned and made and i won't back down from my right of standing or from my choice of position
